

Christ Is King

Based on Psalm 2

Capo 1:

Why do the na-tions rage, And all the peo-ples plot in vain?

One day, ev-ry tongue will praise And ev-ry knee will bow.

1. The kings of earth have set themselves; The rul-ers join in dark car-tels

A-gainst the Lord they would re-bel; They've turned from Christ the King! Huh!

2. "Let us burst their bonds," they say,
 "And let us cast their cords away!"
 The lightest yoke they try to break,
 Denying Christ is King! Huh!

3. He who sits in the heavens laughs,
 He mocks them as the blowing chaff,
 He terrifies them in His wrath
 By saying, "Christ is King"! Huh!

4. I will tell of the decree
 "You are my Son," He said to Me.
 "Today I have begotten Thee;
 In Zion is My King" Huh!

5. "Ask of Me, and I will make
 All nations Yours alone to take.

The ends of the earth You shall retain
 And rule them as their King." Huh!

6. He'll break them with an iron rod;
 The winepress of His wrath He'll trod;
 He'll dash them like a broken pot.
 Rejoice, for Christ is King. Huh!

7. Now, therefore, O kings, be wise;
 You rulers of the earth, advised
 To serve the Lord with fear-filled eyes;
 Beware, for Christ is King. Huh!

8. Kiss the Son, lest He be mad;
 His anger's swift, for your way is bad;
 In Him are grace and refuge had.
 Rejoice, for Christ is King! Huh!
